

AT MIT SINCE 2014
Teaches soccer

AARON DUNGCA

Education

B.S. Movement & Sports Studies
M.Ed Instructional Planning & Curriculum Design
BFS Strength Certification

FAVORITE SPORTS TEAM
New England Patriots

Favorite Vacation
Driving to Hilton Head,
SC with his wife

ADVICE FROM FUTURE SELF
TRY EVERYTHING AND ANYTHING.
KEEP A POSITIVE ATTITUDE.
LISTEN CAREFULLY.

Short Bio: Aaron Dungca

Aaron Dungca has worked in in MIT Physical Education since 2014, but has been teaching and coaching at the high school level since 2010. Here in MITPE, Aaron teaches beginner and intermediate soccer classes. His favorite thing about teaching in MITPE is having the opportunity to instruct MIT students and see firsthand how driven and motivated students are... in and outside the classroom! Outside of teaching and coaching, Aaron loves to work his own fitness in the weight room, practice hot yoga, kayak, mountain bike, rock climb, and read. Aaron holds a Masters of Education in Instructional Planning and Curriculum Design and a BFS Strength Certification.