

DAVE HAGYMAS

AT MIT SINCE 2005

Teaching tennis, badminton, squash, skating, swimming, hockey, volleyball, and self defense
Coaching varsity tennis

EDUCATION

Physical Education at the University of South Carolina at Coastal

ADVICE FROM FUTURE SELF

Most roadblocks in life are set up by you; you also have the power to remove them

FAVORITE ICE CREAM TOPPING

M & M's

FAVORITE PART OF TEACHING AT MIT

Interacting with the student body and helping to bring a positive skill or activity to their lives

Dave Hagymas

Dave Hagymas has been working at MIT since 2005. Dave teaches a variety of physical education courses including tennis, swimming, skating, hockey, badminton, volleyball, squash, self-defense, and archery. He also serves as the MIT men's varsity tennis coach. Dave has a passion for teaching MIT students and enjoys the unique atmosphere they bring to campus. Outside of MIT Dave loves to spend time in the outdoors camping, fishing, and biking.