

FAVORITE THING ABOUT TEACHING AT MIT
The student body we teach and excellent facilities we have access to

TODD LINDER

AT MIT SINCE 2007
Teaching archery, running & jogging,
skating, swimming & weight training
Coaching varsity track & field

EDUCATION
M.S. in Technology Education
at NC A&T University

FAVORITE EXTRACURRICULAR
Woodworking

UNIQUE FACT
I have over 35 skydives with over 30 minutes of free fall time

Linder joined MIT in 2007. H has taught archery, skating, weight training, swimming, running & jogging, and is a coach with the Track & Field team. Linder has a lot of experience in education, completing his MS at NC A&T University in Technology Education and working as a public school teacher for 13 years. He particularly enjoys teaching at MIT due to the makeup of the student body and the access to excellent facilities. Linder likes to stay active riding his bike year round and his favorite sporting event to watch is road cycling and the Tour De France. His favorite hobby is woodworking and he has completed over 35 skydives with 30 minutes of free-fall time.