

FAVORITE THING ABOUT TEACHING AT MIT

The students are energetic and eager to learn and being able to provide a great learning experience for them.

DEREK ROUSSEAU

AT MIT SINCE 2017

Teaching tennis, jogging, weightlifting. Assistant Track and Field Coach

EDUCATION

Psychology at Sacred Heart College and Counseling at Providence College

RECREATIONAL ACTIVITIES

Kayak, swim, hang out with friends, and catch up on movies on Netflix

BIGGEST FEAR

Being boring. And heights.

Derek Rousseau joined the MIT DAPER staff in 2017 as a Physical Education Instructor/Track and Field Assistant Coach. Derek has spent over 12 years working in athletics and wellness, teaching physical education, coaching soccer, basketball, track, and tennis, most recently at the State University of New York at Oswego. He received his Bachelor of Science in Psychology at Sacred Heart University and Master of Education from Providence College. A native New Englander, Derek says that if he could live anywhere in the world, he'd choose Boston. At MIT, he teaches weight training, jogging, and tennis. As an instructor, Derek enjoys the fact that MIT students are energetic and eager to learn.